PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29. - The cloth weavers of J. A. Bachman & Co. aid not go out yesterday, as was expected. The firm granted the advance asked, and the schedule will go into effect at once. An effort will now be made to get the other manufacturers to do the same. The weavers' committee of Bachman's employes met the firm yesterday mornging. The firm agreed to grant them the a on the worsted goods, but not on cotton goods. The present schedule the firm is paying is one and a half mills a pick on one loom jobs, on worsted goods, and on two looms eighty-one one-hundredths mills; on cotton goods two looms, they pay seventy-five one-hun-Edredths mills.

'he weavers refused to accept this offer. Wad gave the manufacturers until today to decide, threatening to strike unless that demands were accepted. The firm tried to get them to wait until tomorrow, but the weavers were obdurate and refased to concede anything. Later in the day the committee again waited on the

The firm finally vielded and granted the advance. Tois will amount to ninetenths of a mill a pick bringing the price on two loom work up to three-unarter mills, and to one and three-quarter on the loom jobs. This is on both cotton and worsted goods.

Members of the weavers' committee order a general strike. This means that 900 weavers alone may go out. In addition to these are the twisters and spoolers and winders. They would swell the number to 35,000 men and women.

The uniform proce asmanded by the weavers is two mills per pick on all goods. This, the manufacturers say, is preposberous. The present condition of trade will not admit of the advance. They declare that some of the manufacturers have Mead their looms idle for over two years.

Showering Congratulations on the Pennsylvania Senator.

THE CONTEST VERY BRIEF

Gilkeson Named the Senator for State Chairman.

HE WAS UNANIMOUSLY CHOSEN.

The Party Strife Which Has Existed for Many Weeks Ends in a Veritable Love Feast, Senator Quay Himself Placing in Nomination the Hastings Candidates for Superior Court Judges and the Goverpor for Permanent Chairman of the Convention-The Platform Vigorously Opposes the Free Coinage of Silver and Lauds Senator Quay's Efforts Against the Wilson Bill-The Senator to Visit Florida for a Brief Rest Before the Fall Cam-

HARRISBURG, Ang 29.—The Republican state convention met here yesterday and unanimously agreed upon the following ticket: State treasurer, Benjamin J. Haywood of Mercer; for superior court judges, James A. Beaver of Centre county, E. N. Willard of Lackawanna, Charles E. Rice of Luzerne, George B. Orlady of Huntingdon, John J. Wickham of Beaver and Howard Reeder of Northampton. Senator Quay was unanimously chosen for chairman of the Republican state committee.

The result of the convention was a complete, overwhelming victory for Senator Quay, who has, during the past two months, fought a battle for the mastery in Pennsylvania polities which has attracted the attention of the whole country. He had his political enemies completely at his mercy, but refrained from pushing his advantage at this time, although one of the senator's lieutenants remarked, after the convention, that "he has a lot of people to punish who will occupy his attention during the next two In the opinion of politicians Senator Quay's grasp on Pennsylvania politics is now stronger than it ever was before, and even though his opponents continue the war they have waged against him, it will require years to get their organization in such shape as to accomplish his political downfall. Senator Quay is the hero, as well as the idol of Pennsylvania politicians of all degrees of prominence. His rooms at the Lochiel hotel have been constantly besieged since the convention ended by men anxious to pay homage to his matchless leadership. The senator takes all of the praise and congratulations that are being showered upon him with his usual stoicism, and so far as outward appearances go his demeanor is just the same as when the fight seemed to be going against

The convention, which started out with every promise of being one of the most exciting ever known in the state, developed into a "love feast," and wound up about as tamely as any ever seen here. The confining. for purposes of safety, of the spectators' tickets to 100 for each faction, while a prudent move, robbed the proceedings of much of the usual accompaniment of noise, and the customary band playing between the acts was no ticeable by reason of its absence.

The first battle between the factions came on the election of a temporary chairman. The Quay candidate won by a majority of thirty, and after this the senator had his own way completely.

An incident of the day was the offering by Senator Quay of a resolution calling for the purification of politics and civil service in all branches of the public ser vice, which was afterwards embodied in the platform

Because of the fear that the outside rabble might break in it was deemed unwise to open the doors of the hall after all entitled to admission were inside, and it was necessary for the fifty platform makers to get in one corner and discuss their business. The anti-Quay minority, led by Congressman Dalzell, fought for a more definite expression in favor of sound money, and, being outvoted in committee, brought their fight to the convention floor and here carried their point without much opposition, Senator Quay accepting their plank as an addition to the one in his own platform. The resolutions were prepared by men opposed to Governor Hastings, and the matter of indorsing his administration was very nearly overlooked, a thoughtful delegate offering the necessary plank a few minutes before final adjournment

The day was the hottest of the season. and for more than four hours the delegates, newspaper men and spectators were imprisoned in a sweltering atmosphere without food or drink. With a few exceptions, every man sat in his shirt sleeves, Senator Quay being one of the first to set the example.

Although there was an outward indication of harmony and forgiveness, it is said that this extends only to Governor Hastings and his friends. Those on the platform observed that Senator Quay did not look at or speak to C. L. Magee, David Martin and Senator Porter, the men who have led the fight against him, and it is predicted that the wounds now temporarily healed will be reopened in a very

ARRIVAL OF THE LEADERS.

The Special Officers from Pittsburg Vacate the Convention Hall,

HARRISBURG, Aug 29 -- Governor Hastings, when he appeared at the Opera House, had not yet given up the fight. Before the convention convened, he said to the Associated Press correspondent the situation was encouraging to the friends of Chairman Glikeson. He thought pos sibly some of the delegates might have foremost, when accompanied by ability for his heroicresistance to the bill through-been captured during the night by the Quay people; if they had not, they had a majority and would win.

Before the front doors were opened Rob ert O'Mara, chief of police of Pittsburg, walked to the front or the stage and announced to his lieutenants in the gallery. who had been on duty all night, that the doorkeepers had arrived. "The combine and the Quay people," said he, "have agreed that nobody but delegates and newspaper men shall be admitted. You will please vacate the gallery, and the doorkeepers will take charge of the hall."

The crowd left the gallery with coats on their arms, and filed out the rear of the

At presisely 11 o'clock Senator Quay, attired in a loose sack coat, white duck trousers and straw hat, entered the hall from the rear with Congressman Stone, of Allegheny. There were few delegates in the hall when the senator arrived. He was applauded as he walked up the aisle, and took a seat just in the rear of Gover-nor Hastings. The two looked straight shead, and did not appear to know of the other's presence. Senator Quay's friends prowded around him as they came in the hall and congratulated him on what they believed was a certain victory. Near the "Old Man" was young "Dick" Quay, his son, and Frank Willing Leach, of Phila-

Benators Fline and Pearose came in together, and were wildly applauded as they took seats near each other in front of the stage. The heat was intense in the hall, and those delegates who did not shed their coats fanned themselves with palm leafs and newspapers.

Chris L Magee was cheered as he marched down the aisle and took a seat in the orchestra box by the side of Senator Flinn. At 11:40 o'clock Senator Quay took off his coat and sat in his shirt sleeves. The crowd took this as an indication that he was preparing for the great battle soon to be fought and cheered him accordingly. Governor Hastings tried to keep cool by fanning himself with a fan on which was printed an invitation to vote for Senator Quar.

THE CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS. The Threat-ned Tumult Ends in a Veritable Love Feast.

HARRISEURG, Aug. 22.-It was 11:58 before all the delegates to the Republicans state convention had entered the Opera House. Chairman Gilkeson called the meeting to order and Secretary Fetterolf read the call for the convention.

Secretary Rex called the roll of delegates. Congressman W. A. Stone, of Allegheny, was substituted for Frank J.

When the name of D S Cordus, one of the Beaver delegates, was called Senator Quay arose and said: "Mr Secretary, substitute M S. Quay for Mr. Cordus," The crowd cheered the senator as he sat down. and again when Secretary Rex called his name. The cheering and applause lasted for fully a minute when the name of Governor Hastings was called.

T. Larry Eyre was substituted for H. B. Buckwalter, of Chester; Senator William H. Andrews, of Crawford, for Julius Bayles, and Congressman Robinson, Thomas V. Cooper, William D. Schaeffer, W L Matthews and Joseph H Huddell for four of the Delaware delegates. Senator Lundis of Lancaster, District Attorney Holland of Montgomery were also substituted. The names of Senators Penrose, Porter and Thomas, David Martin and Alexander Crow were cheered as they were called by the secretary.

The roll call complete. Speaker Walton. of the house of representatives, named Colonel Henry Hall, of Littsburg, for temporary chairman Senator Quay, said: By the direction of the cancus held last night I have the honor to name for temporary chairman. Hon. John B Robinson, of Delaware."

First Blood for Quay.

The call of the roll on temporary chairman was watched with intense interest. as this was the first battle between the warring factions. The announcement that Robinson had been elected by a vote of 1632, to 1331; for Hall was greeted with the wildest applause. Mr. Hall moved that the election of Robinson be made unanimous. Governor Hastings seconded the motion, and it was carried.

In taking the chair Mr. Robinson said: I thank you for the honor you have conferred on me, and I wish to say I am now ready for the business of the convention." The briefness of the speech surprised everybody Senator Quay moved that the committee on permanent organization be instructed to report the name of Governor Hastings for permanent chairman. Car-

Congressman Stone, of Allegheny, offered the following resolution, which was unantmously adopted.

"That the rule for the selection of chairman of the state committee by the candidates and the permanent chairman of the convention be suspended, and said state chairman be named by the convention immediately after the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions "

Quay's Reform Resolutions. Then Mr. Riter, of Parlidelphia, offored a resolution, to be referred to the platform committee, opposing free coinage of silver, and then Senator Quay offered the following, which was referred to the resolutions committee, and by that committee added to the platform:

"Resolved That we decry the growing use of money in politics and the corporate control of legislatures, municipalities, political primaries and elections, and favor the enactment of the legislation and the enforcement of laws to correct such

"We earnestly insist upon a form of civil service which will prevent the enslavement of public officers and employes, and the compelling of those appointed to proserve the peace to confine themselves to their duties, which will insure absolute freedom and fairness in bestowing state and county and municipal contracts, and will punish any form of favoritism in granting them, which will forbid the grant of exclusive franchises to dealers in public necessities, comforts, convenience and sanitary requirements, and will insure the recognition of ability and fidelity in the public service to the country ever

"We demand that public office should be for the public benefit, and its term in subordinate positions should be during good behavior No public employe or officer should be permitted to influence primaries or elections, nor upon any pretense be assessed upon his salary, and all unnecessary positions and salaries should be abolished and expenditures and taxation reduced; there should be a uniform basis of valuation of property for public purposes; corporations enjoying public privileges should pay for them, and schools should be divorced from politics and kept absolutely free from political influence and control.'

At 1:3) p. m. the committee on permanent organization met in the lobby, and went through the form of agreeing on General Hastings for permanent chair-

Political Rivals Arm in Arm.

Temporary Chairman Robinson designated Senator Quay and C. L. Magee as committee to escort Permanent Chairman Hastings to the platform. Wild enthusiasm followed the appearance of the two rivals, arm and arm with the big governor.

Governor Hastings thanked the convention for the honor of his unanimous elec-tion as chairman. He said that the recent events in the Republican party of Pennsylvania prove the prophecy that electric storms have the effect of clearing the atmosphere, and we reserve our cyclone for the free trade, debt creating Democratic

Nominations for state treasurer were called for, and Colonel Henry Hall, of Pittsburg, named Benjamin J. Haywood, of Mercer county. There were no other nominations, and Mr. Haywood was unanimously chosen.

Senator Quay was then recognized. He said: "I am satisfied, while I have my prejudices in this fight, that it is for the best interest of the Republican party that the nominees of our governor for the superior court be the choice of this convention." He thereupon named the six Hastings judges, and they were unanimously nominated.

Gilkeson Nominates Quay.

Chairman Gilkeson, who sat in front of Senator Quay, was substituted for one of the delegates from Bucks county for the purpose of making a motion. He said: "It is perfectly evident to my mind, after the vote for temporary chairman, what would be the result of a vote for state chairman. I therefore, in the interest of party harmony, withdraw as a candidate for this place, and move the ununimous election of Senator Matthew Stanley

This statement was received with wild applause. The delegates stood up in their seats and waved fan, and handkerchiefs. The spectators in the galleries applauded and for a number the convention was a howling mob.

Congressman Stone seconded the motion in a brilliant specen, which was enthusiastically applauded.

Before the question was put Congressman Robinson apple rized for the authorship of the Quay campager did he do with 167" Referring to Chairman Gilkeson's disposition of the campaign tunds, he said he was satisfied that Gilkeson spent the money honestly

Senator Quay was then made the unanimous choice of the convention for state chairman

There were loud ories for a speech from Senator Quay. The senator arose, and declining to take the platform simply said: 'I will endeavor in the campaign now ensuing to make it a campaign of

As soon as Senator Quay fluished, the delegates and spectators who had been sweltering in the awfully hot theater for more than three hours began to break for the doors, evidently not caring to hear the platform, the committee on which was in session in one of the galleries

Hastings Presents Quay with a Gavel. A gavel made from a part of a rafter in the bouse in which Blaine was born in Washington county, was presented to Chairman Quay by Governor Hastings. In taking the stage to read the report of the platform committee District Attorney Graham of Phila lelphia, said it was the platform agreed upon by a majority of the committee, although there was a large minorally against it. Senator Penrose called Mr Graham to order for revealing the proceedings of the committee. Congressman John Dalzell, in reply to Mr Penrose, stated that the resolutions were forced through by the majority without the conclusion of the reading of the platform, when Mr. Riter, 6; Philadelphia, moved the substitution of his sound money resolution for the money plank in the platform as read. Congressman Dalzell made a strong speech in support of Mr. Riter's attitude. He retterated his well known views on the money question and urged that the platform of the Pennsylvama Representatis should be made as strong as possible. Senator Quay said he saw no objection to Mr. Riter's resolution as long as it was attached to the platform as read. Mr River's amendment was then agreed to and the platform as amended was adopted.

Points of the Platform. The financial plank of the platform says

"Believing it to be the settled doctrine of the party that the honor of the nation and the interests of its citizens require the maintenance of a national currency, every dollar of which, whether in gold, silver or notes, shall be of a stable value and of equal purchasing power, this convention hereby declares its opposition to the debasement of the national currency by the admission of silver to free and unlimited coinage at the arbitrary ratio of 16 to 1.

On the Wilson tariff bill the platform

"We thank the Republican members of the house of representatives from Pennsylvania for their activity in exposing the destructive character of the Wilson tariff bill, as passed by the house of representatives and we thank the Republican senators from Pennsylvania for their efficient help in securing its defeat. Especially do we thank Senator Matthew Stanley Quay out many weary months, leading the Republican opposition to its enactment, and finally compelling the Democratic majority in the senate to agree to the substitution of many protective duties for its free trade provisions."

The administration of Governor Hastngs is thus extolled:

"We commend the splendid administration of Governor Daniel H. Hastings, which has fully justified the confidence in him of the voters of the commonwealth as expressed in the enormous majority given him last fall."

After the adoption of the platform the convention passed a resolution of thanks to Chairman bilkeson, and adjourned sine die at 2.45 p. m. The platform has this to say regarding highway improvement:

"We layor the adoption of a fixed and well considered policy for the permanent betterment of the highways of the state, so that the means of communication by private conveyance between the farms of the state and the neighboring markets shall be improved, and encouragement be given to the enlarged use of the highways by our citizens.

"We continue to demand the enactment of such legislation as will prevent the migration of paupers, criminals and persons incapable, either physically or mentally, of self support, and we endorse the bill that passed the house of representatives prepared and introduced by our distinguished congressman, Hon. William A. Stone."

Senator Quay left for his home in Beaver today. After getting his affairs in shape he will go to St. Lucie, Fla., for a few weeks' rest before the opening of the fall campaign.

AT HISTORIC PLYMOUTH.

The School of Applied Ethics Draws Many Summer Visitors to the Old Town.

The Plymouth School of Applied Ethics is a new jewel in an old setting. While retaining all the interest of historic association and the flavor of the old days of the Pilgrim fathers Plym outh is now the Mecca of the devotees of modern thought and culture.

The School of Applied Ethics was established at Plymouth four years ago. There are about 200 students in the school, who attend a whole or a part of the five weeks' session. They come from more than half the states in the Union, representing as professors or students all the leading universities.

From the beginning the school has been divided into three departments economics, ethics and the history of religious. This year a department of education has been added, under the direction of a committee made up of leading educators. Professor H. C. Adams of the University of Michigan is the director of the department of economics, Professor Felix Adler of ethics and Pro-

Among the lecturers and instructors are Professor Adler, Carroll D. Wright, Mary E. Livermore, Herbert Walsh of Philadelphia, Dr. Wayland, Dr. Charles Λ . Briggs of Presbyterian controversy fames and other men of eminence. Every phase of religious, ethical and economic belief is presented, and the themes embrace a wide range of research and

With the scholastic elements are mingled the associations of old Plymouth, with its historic rock; the Pilgrim monument and the relics of the sturdy forefathers. There are still many of the descendants of the original Pilgrims living at Plymouth, and a number of the quaint old seventeenth and eighteenth century houses remain, while in Pilgrim hall are found many interesting relics of the early settlers, among them Peregrine White's cradle, Miles Standish's sword. John Alden's Bible, the original patent granted the Pilgrims and various old documents with the signatures of men whose names are now historic.

How to be Handsome.

It is a mistake to suppose that the only way to be good looking is to be born so. Good health has more to do with good looks than anything else. Such diseases as constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaints, rheumatism, nervous disorders, &c., not only shorten life, but spoil tempers and "looks." Bacon's Celery King for the nerves cures these troubles. John J. Chambers

A NOTABLE WEDDING.

It Enriches Greece at the Expense of the United States.

Somewhat of the interest the American people always felt in the late P. T. Barman, the prince of showmen, attuches to his fair and vivacious widow. It was therefore with more than ordinary interest that the public read of her marriage in New York the other day to Demecrius Callias Bey, a Greek subject of the sultan of Turkey. The groom is 47 years old, one year the senior of Mrs. Callins, and he is said to be the owner of large estates and olive oil factories on the island of Mitylene, just at the entrance to the Dar danelies. It was while traveling in Egypt and Palestine, several years ago, that Mrs. Barnum met Mr. Callias, and the engagement was of considerable

It is said that Mrs. Callias does not look to be much over 35 years of age. She is a trifle under medium beight, with a figure slightly inclined to stoutness and an erect poise and carriage. She was the second wife of Mr. Barnum and was born at Southport, Lancashire,

England. Her maiden name was Nancy Fish, and her father, John Fish, was a warm friend of Barnum. It was while traveling in this country in 1874 that she met and married the famous show-

Mr. and Mrs. Barmum lived happily together at the magnificent estate of the family in Bridgeport, Conn. The wife was very happy with her husband, and he was exceedingly fond of her and proud of her wit and accomplishments. She is a fluent writer and an accomplished musician and is given to the collection of bric-a-brac and works of

Upon her husband's death, on April 7, 1891, at the age of 81 years, Mrs. Barnum found herself heir to a large property, estimated at $1,200,000, in addition to which there was a specific annuity of $40,000. She obtained her rights only after a contest, which was settled amicably in 1894. Since Mr. Barnum's death she has lived much of the timesabroad and now announces that she will permanently abandon her American residence.

Thus the wealth the genial showman acquired by his favorite diversion of 'humbugging the American people' will go to enrich the isles of Greece.

It Stood the Test.

A public writer had a partition wall fixed up in his study and ordered the carpenter to make it in such a way that no sound could penetrate through it. "The best thing will be to fill it in with shavings," said the man, and set to work. When he had finished, his employer went and stood on one side of the partition and called out to the man who was on the "Do you hear me, Jantke?"

"No. sir!" was the prompt reply .- Tagiche Rundschau.

He Knew His Relatives.

A well known Brooklyn contractor who died recently came from a family of Irishmen noted for their quarrelsome disposltions. His lawyer was somewhat surprised when he read his will to come across a clause reading:

Corporal Tanner's assertion that Pension Commissioner Lochren is doing the right thing by the veterans and the country has aroused the ire fore. of the Buffalo Commercial, Republican, which says that " it is evident that death and a deep grave are necessary before Corporal Tanner will be convinced that the period of his mouth's usefulness terminated long ago."

Quay's victory in Pennsylvania is ial aspirations. Quay quarreled with | yachts. Harrison early in his administration because he thought he was not treated with sufficient consideration in the distribution of patronage and, since he neither forgets nor forgives, he will throw Pennsylvania's vote in next year's convention against the man from Indiana, for whom, he tersely says, he "he has no use."

Quay's triumph over the Hastings-Martin combine in the Pennsylvania Republican convention, yesterday, was so decisive that it was good politics on his part to be magnanimous to his defeated foes. The apparent concessions that he made in the interest of harmony will help to strengthen his hold on the rank and file of the party and will make him a bigger boss than he was before. In reality Quay conceded nothing. He cared not a rap for the make-up of organization, which means control of the delegation to the Republican national convention, next year. As a result of the defeat of the combine, there are already rumors of bickerings among its members and the Honorable David Martin has publicly declared that in his anxiety to save himself from more complete humiliation, Gov. Hastings "bilked" his allies.

The New York World brings the parallel column to bear on the Mc-Kinley versus the Wilson tariff, and with deadly consequences to what our Republican contemporaries are pleased to call "the best and brainiest tariff ever formed." The record of the McKinley tariff in nine of the in the shade, to-day. largest steel and iron works in the country, which are named, is one of DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE and thousands of men thrown out of employment. The record of the and voluntary advances of wages, in towns being represented. some cases to points beyond those ever paid in the days of high protect tion. The Trenton Pottery Trust, which under McKinleyism announced a reduction of 331, per cent. in wages. under a Democratic tariff has in. creased wages, the advance in some departments being 40 per cent. In the cotton and woolen industries the McKinley tariff record is short time, wage reductions, strikes and shut downs, while under the Democratic tariff the same concerns restored and advanced wages and are running to their fullest capacity. A year under a reformed tariff has brought confidence and prosperity to our manufacturers, and peace and plenty to their employes. More than this, lower prices for all the necessaries of life have so increased the purchasing power of a dollar that the condition of the wage earners of the country was never as good as it is and will be under the Wilson tariff.

This inquiry resulted in obtaining the pleasing information that there was no truth in the report, and that it started from an alleged joke on the part of Mr. Tice's baker, and was put in circulation by the boy who furnishes yeast to the bakery.

The baker told the boy not to leave the usual quantity of yeast this morning, and when the boy asked why the baker said: "Mr. Tice was drowned yesterday, and the store will be closed to-day.'

The boy accepted the explanation as truth and told it to everybody he Prospects Are Bright for a Successful Meetlog Next Week.

Appearances indicate that the fall meeting of the Orange County Driving Park As colation at the Goshen Driving Park, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5, will be the most successful of any meeting given under the auspices of this association. There are 171 entries for the thirteen speed events and interesting contests are assured.

The programme for Monday, Sept. 2, includes a purse of $400 for 2.24 pacers, with eight entries; $409 for 2:27 trotters, with eight entries, and $300 for the 2:35 class, trotters four years old or under, with twenty en-

For the three-year-old colt stake of $330 on Thursday, there are eighteen entries; there are twenty two in the 2:30 class, trotters, for which a purse of $500 is offered, and seven in the 2:19 pace, for a pu se of $409.

The music, which has always been an interesting and prominent feature of these meetings, will this year be better than ever before. The Goshen Band, strongly reinforced for the occasion, will render an attractive programme of popular and classical music on each day of the races.

Recent improvements to grounds and more particularly to the grand stand, will conduce to the comfort and convenience of spectators, while the enlargement of the stand and its consequent morease in seating capacity insures ample accommodations for all who may attend.

TIRED OF BROMIDES.

A D T Patient Leaves Thrall Hespital and Breaks Into a Barroom,

A patient undergoing treatment for delirium tremens escaped from Thrall Hospital, last evening, and made his way to the hotel of Wm. Vozel, or Wickham avenue, where he forced an entrance into the barroom through the side door by breaking a pane of glass.

After a survey of the premises he made his exit through a rear door, and was afterwards captured and returned to the hospital. There is no evidence that anything was taken from the premises, except that the unfortunate man may have helped himself to liquid refreshments. Mr. Vogel heard a crash of glass, but had no idea that he had a visitor until he opened his place this morning.

The European Party on Their Way Home-The Time We Feel at Liber y to Criticise Our Friends

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

From a Special Correspondent. -The City of Rome, on which the Goshen party sailed, is expected to arrive in port on Friday.

-If there is one thing above another about our fellow men and women that we somehow feel at perfect liberty to criticise, it is the way in which they bear their troubles. It is barder to please everybody in regard to this one matter, than in almost anything else in the world. If the affi cted person mourns too long, we not making a sufficient effort to overcome his grief. If, on the other hand, he bears himself cheerfully, we shake our heads over him and say that he has no deep feelings and does not mind things so much as more sensitive spirits, meaning, of course, ourselves, do. This is a matter in which it is very hard to preserve a happy medium, but perhaps, before we condemn anyone too severely, it would be well for us to remember that there is sometimes a very thin dividing line between laughter and tears. If any one was to paint a ow, it would be neither attractive or true to nature, and it is not the author who shows us only the dark side of life, nor the one who paints it only in glowing colors, whom we like best to read, but the one who presents it to us as it really is, with its mingled pathos and humor, its bitter griefs and mitigating joys. People of different temperaments must necessarily take things differently, and how fortunate it is that we do, for if we should all be simultaneously seized with the impulse to bewail our grievances both real and fancied, what a chorus would arise to Heaven, and there would be no one to listen to our woes, for we should all be occupied in the recital of our own. If the Lord had wished us to be all alike doubtless he would have made a pattern by which we could be cut out. but as He did not see fit to do this, we shall probably go on until the end of time seeing most matters from different standpoints.

SAILING AWAY.

Sailing away with the wind abcam, And the wide, wide sea before; Sailing away in a lover's dream To the port of the golden shore, Idle hands on the rudder bands,

Hope in the sunrise fair, And hearts as light as the sca bird white Ationt in the morning air. Love, in the dawn of that faroff time,

Did you guess of the weary way? Dearest, when life seemed a sunamor rhyme Could we tell where we went astray? Silent tears through the coming years, Darkness for you and me, And doubt and dread of the wilds ahead Fell chill as we sailed a sea.

Sailing ashore with a waning wind On the glass of a dreaming tide, Leaving the dark of the deep behind For the light of the other side, Loosen hands from the rudder bands!

Ah, to the margin foam Comes breath of land o'er the golden sand. Oh, sweet is our welcome home! -William Woodward in Chambers' Journal.

A BICYCLE CHASE.

Milo Warren was making a call on a girl to whom he was fondly attached, although he had never told her so. But this was a case where actions speak louder than words, and—leave a girl alone for finding out if a young man regards her with favor. Every girl is clairvoyant where affairs of the heart are concerned.

They were talking about their birthdays and the pleasant custom of giving presents at such a time.

"Let me see," said Milo thoughtfully, "did you say your birthday came m September, Miss Nellie?"

"I did not say," remarked Miss Nellie demurely.
"Then it was December, wasn't it?

Some lucky fellow will be giving you a diamond, perhaps." "Or a souveuir spoon," laughed Nellie. "You know they made jewel spoons for birthday gifts, but all the girls changed their birthdays to December, and the young men could not stand the expense, and they sent a petition to the manufacturers, asking them to discontime the custom; so no more spoons are in the market.

"I-I-I-really wish you would tell me when your natal day arrives. I might at least send you a bunch of roses, in remembrance of all the—the—happy days we have spent together. Is it this month, Miss Nellie?"

"You remind me of the parlor game, 'Is it this? Is it that?" said Miss Nellie, and then fearing that the young man was becoming sentimental she turned the conversation to other

But the next day Milo Warren dropped casually into the store where Miss Nellie Newton's best brother was engaged as bookkeeper and inquired solemnly at the grated window which permitted a segment of his countenance to appear if that young man would take lunch with

"Certainly," was the brusque reply from a mouth full of pens. "I'll meet thee at Philippi-I mean at Hunger & Co 's-in an hour."

He was there, and at the pleasant spread of good things provided Milo Warren propounded this conundrum:

"If you like a girl awfully, but haven't told her so, and you think she maybe likes you awfully-no, I don't mean that-but if that girl has a birthday and you want to make her a present, and she won't tell you when it isthe birthday, you know-oh, hang it all, I'm everlastingly mixed up. Can't you help a fellow out?"

Lyman Newton laid aside his knife and fork and looking Mile in the face, asked seriously:

"Any mainty in your family, Milo?" "None that I ever heard of outside of my own case," was the depressed an-

"Reducing your heroics to a plain statement, then, you want to give a girl of your acquaintance a birthday present:"

"Exactly." "I- she an 'old woman?"

"What do you mean?" reased Warren, turning sed. "I'll thank you to speak with respect of my irrends-besides I''—

"Oh, no harm done; don't get riled so easily. I wanted to know if she belonged to the past age or the present. I take it, then, that she's a 'new woman?' " "I understand now. Ye , I believe she has advanced opinions, but she isn't one of those dreadful creatures that advocate the wearing of blo mers. Nellie is the soul of wonamly modesty

"Nellie? Do I know this bright particular star?"

...Why, of course you do-I quite forgot-she's your own sister!" "Well, I like that! And you want to make her a birthday present and don't know the day. Sorry, old fellow, but I can't help you out. Nellie would take my head off if I told " That ended the lunch, but an unforeseen thing happened. Just as Mile Warieu left his company at the corner he saw an utchin he knew. It was the infliction known as Nelhe's youngest brother, aged 7, capacity for mischief seven times seven, precocity unlimited by any period of time

Milo, with malice prepense, engaged the dear child us a surfeit of sweets, and then asked, as if the idea was not of the least consequence and had just occurred to him:

"When does sister Nellie have a birth-lay?'' The dear child looked at him for a enoment, drew his mouth round under as ear, clevated both eyebrows and said in a confiding, infantile voice:

"What'll you give ter know?" Advantageous terms being made, the bly puckered his mouth for a whistle, thought better of it and gave the following Saturday as his sister's birth-"An if yer want to make yerself solid-ee, just send her a real stunuer of a bike. "What! A bicycle? Does she ride?" "How kin she? I reckon she kin learn, mister. Yer just send that bike-there ain't nothin Nell wants wass nor that."

From LaGrippe.

How Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored One of Kentucky's Dusiness Men to Health.

O DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrione. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, usere-s, sicepiess, nerveless, as LaGrippe.
Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Kentucky, says: "In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the fast one attacking my nervous system with such selerity that my life was despuired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of nur-coiles that stupefied me, but give me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, azonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker.

When in this condition, I commenced using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In two days I began to improve and in one month's time I was cured much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have seen in ex-relient hearth since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends."

With this advice and being sworn to secrecy, the small terror bowled himself

It gave Mile Warren something to do to purchase that bicycle and have it delivered to Miss Nellie on her birthday in an anonymous manner. He expected it back every hour for about a week, but it did not come, and he felt safe. The small brother had not betrayed him

But after a little he began to wish he had, for Miss Nellie had evidently mounted that bicycle and ridden out of his life. He called, but she was our on her bicycle, no matter what the hour was, noon or night, and he got himself run over on the street and knecked down daily by dushing out from sidewalk corners to see who the rider was and getting hart for his pains. When he could stand it no longer, he came to a sudden resolve-he would buy a bicycle for himself and perhaps be able to find

And now began an exciting chase for life and liberty, for ar one moment the amateur bicyclist was under the feet of a trampling horse, the next he was running over a wrathy pedestrian, and he usually ended his experiences by picking up his frisky steed and carrying it to the shop for repairs.

And all this time he never caught a glimpse of Nellie, but he was inclined to think he divined the cause. Judging from his own experience in learning to ride a bicycle, Nellie might be exercising her own fractions acquisition on some remote roadway outside the city limits-or, dreadful thought, might even he laid up herself for repairs. He called on the bookkeeper brother, but found him busy and noncommittal So he waited and tried to possess his soul with patience and learn to ride a bicycle without the zigzag motion that had endangered the lives or the populace and nearly caused his arrest by the

Then he made the discovery that if he gave his wheel its head it would behave much better than when he guided it carefully, to the end that it traversed both sides of the street at once. After acting like a thing possessed it learn d to behave, and he found himself skimming along like a bird on the wing, with an exultant sense of freedom and delight, and he longed to see Nellie and tell her what he had been trying to say for monthsthat he loved her!

And at that moment there whizzed past him a visi n in bloomers, one of those dreadful new women of whom he had heard and now was to see. He almost felt that it was disloyalty to gentle little Nellie to even look at such an apparition, but simehow she looked so quaint in her saucy jacket and baggy tromers, her nearly gainered feet were so pert and independent, that Milo looked and booked again. Then he gave a great wheop and took after the flying wheel like a streak of lightning.

His confidence stood him instead of skill. He went spinning along in fine style until he reached a parallel with the girl in bloomers, then he leaned over to speak to her, toppled and fell in a heap, but not before he had gasped,

That young lady skillfully cluded the wrick, made a fancy run and turn, and as Milo gathered himself up, said pleas

"Why, Mr. -Warren, I didn't know that you rode a wheel. "

"I don't," said the young man rue fully, feeling of his elbow to determine whether it the dislocated or merely abladed, "but you, Miss Nellie, are quite an expert.

Miss Nellie murmured something about the which being a present from her brother, and that she had not cared to ride, but did just to please him.

"But you ought to see my little brother rule," she said, with enthu-iasm. 'He rides the wheel when I am not using it, and he makes it spin. Why, he rides standing up, and I'm afraid something will hoppen to him. "

Milo was walking along, leading his wheel, as if he preferred that way, and Miss Nellie gave him several exhibitions of her skill, and each moment made a stronger and more lasting inpression on the poor fellow's heart. But even bicycle courtship comes to an end, and they were at Nellie's home, and he must leave her, unless-he asked for a glass of water, and before it was brought he sat down with the wheel on the sidewalk. It was a sudden and most effective stroke of art. Nellie cried and asked if he was killed anywhere. Mrs. Newton brought camphor. They got him into the house, and then he was able to speak, and said what was true enough-that he had lost his head for a moment. The two most expert cyclists on the avenue are Milo and Nellie. You will recognize her by her brown bloomer suit, which is much admired, and lam by the glad smile which mantles his expressive countenance. Nellie knows now who gave her the wheel, and Milo has had another example of the total depravity of the small brother. Nellie's birthday comes in January, but to expe dite matters the impehanged it to July. However, all's well that ends well .-Mrs. M. L. Rayne in Detroit Free Press.

Council Cannot Act On the Mayor's Vetoes To-night-A scheme to Get Even With His Houor by Paving Wickham Avenue and Leaving East Main Street Unimproved.

There is a general impression that the Common Council at its meeting, tc-night, will take action on the Mayor's vetoes of the East Main street and Wickham avenue paving resolutions and that the resolutions will te passed over the vetoes. Such, however, is not the case. According to the charter, the Council cannot take action on the vetoes until the Lext regular meeting, which is Thursday evening of next week.

Those who profess to know the inside workings of the Republican machine say the Council will not dare to override the Mayor's vetoes, and thus bid defiance to the "boss," There are others, however, who believe the Council will pass the Wickham avenue resolution and take no action whatever upon the East Main street job, which they regard as the Mayor's pet scheme, if he can have it done as he wants it, and thus get equare with him for his snare in preventing the passage of Mr. Mance's resolution to pave Wickham avenue early in the вевзоп.

It is certain that unless some action is taken, soor, no paving will be done, this year. Even if the paving is ordered at the next meeting it will be so la e before the work can be commenced, that it is doubtful if a good job could be done, as the pavement should be laid early enough in the season to allow the interstices between the bricks to be filled before frost comes. Perhaps the wisest thing to be done at this late day would be to abandon the idea of paving this year.

THE K. OF P. CLAM BAKE.

One Thousand People Fed by Lancelot Lodge and Not a Complaint Heard,

The evening bake at the park, last evening, was served promptly on time, and, like the noon bake, was as near perfect as it was possible to make it.

Over 1,000 people were fed at the two bakes. That was the number for which provision was made and as everybody had all he wanted, it is readily seen the committee made a generous allowance.

Thus far we have failed to hear a single complaint of any kind, something very remarkable on such an occasion. There certainly was no cause for a complaint and it is difficult to see how even a chronic grumbler could manufacture one.

The committee in charge of the bake, and to whom credit is due for the excellent management, was as follows: J. T. Robertson, Geo. E. Gillen, C. E. Decker, Harmon Miller, William Herman, John E. Corwin, Ed DeWitt, George Edwards, C. H. Emde and J. J. Cox.

When the Knights want to give another bake, hey will only have to announce that it will be managed in the same way this one was to insure a much larger patronage than on this occasion.

THE WHEELMEN'S MEET.

Some Good Sport After Referee Mills Had Called Down Out of Town Wheelmen-The Time Limit Brought Them to Terms-Accident to Walter Weeks-

Surmary. The Middletown Wheelmen's race meeting, held at the Campbell track, yesterday afternoon, while not a great financial success, afforded considerable good sport, but not until Referee J. J. Mills asserted his authority and gave the visiting contestants to understand that he was master of the situation.

The men refused to ride up to their capabilities and loafed around the track in a bunch until the head of the stretch was reached when a sprint would be made for a few hundred vards.

The referce called them to the stand and gave them to understand that he would not be trifled with, and the race was ridden over. Bert Ripley won handily in 2:30, Joe Harrison second, Ray Dawson third.

The referee's determined attitude had a salutary effect upon the riders and the two mile handicap proved a splendid race.

Ray Dawson, who had been unable to win a prize, gave his field handicaps up to 230 yards. He caught the bunch at the end of the first mile, carried them around the third half and won in the easiest possible manner in five minutes.

The half mile final was then run over, Ripley the winner in 1:18 refusing to start, Joe Harrison took first prize in 1:11. W. A. LaDue, sec-Chas. Wheeler third.

Walter S. Weeks had a bad fall in the one mile Orange county championship race. His right arm was badly bruised and skinned, but he rode in both the one and two mile handicaps, although he failed to get a place.

Now, so very many years ago, when we were boys, the above notice attracted ou attention, and a few days later, by the exchange of a jack knife, we became the proud possessor of the knife, we became the proud possessor of the aforesuld animal.

Looking back at this transaction through the mists of hearly twenty-five years, we are absolutely sure the man who owned him took a base advantage of our bayish confidence. That dog was the meanest next miserable, sneaking, cawardl cur that ever drew the beath of life. He would but konly when he was safe insteleaned he would sneak behird when one was not looking and after a snap and snart, with his narrative twist his legs, rou to cover. He would never stand and fight he was never known to tackie a full grown cat, but he took great delight in killing little kittens or chickens. It adog as big as hirself showed up he couldn't be found for two hours after. In was thrashed he would howl for half a day. He was so mean, sneaking a d cowardly we finally gave him to the washerwoman, who, disgusted, killed him with an axe for cating the clothes from the ling the night.

the washerwoman, who, disgusted, killed him with an axe for eating the clothes from the me during the night.

In later years we have been occusionally reminded of our deceased canine friend one dogs and some mengreatly resemble each other. A recent adv. in one of the city papers, forcibly reminds us or this dog we took occasion recently through the courts to teach the writer of that adv. that he must be honest, at least part of the time. We had hoped the verdiet of twelve men, good and true, would be remembered, but it is hard to "teach old dogs new tricks," like the yellow dog, no files to cover and barks at us anonymously, saying what he would never for a moment, dare to say to us personally. Whenever you receive an anonymous communication you nee have no difficulty in locating the breed of pups to which the writer belongs.

This paticular bloof spicen was caused by the mention of the great success of Richmond Hill under our administration. Having falled, indeating to paddling spring beds, he finds exquisite enjoyment in attacking us by anonymous advertising. What a contession of imbectity, weakness and converdice! Sometimes we sympathise with the Pharisce and feel than ful.

But 'tis passing strange that there should be than ful.

But 'tis passing strange that there should be even one man in Middletown even though filled with gall and obtterness personally and realizing his own weakness and imbeel ity should not as a citizen, share in the enthusiasm of the one hund ed fitty lot owners on Richmond Hill. One hundred fifty lots sold within six months: $75,000 00 worth of buildings erected. Work for carpenters, work for masons, work for laborers, houses for fifty more families. Every lot owner doubling and tripling his investment. Twelve new streets everybody pleased ever, body satisfied, but the yellow dog. "Tis well. "He who makes two blades of crass grow where one grew tetore is a public benefactor."

Breathes there a man with soul so dead. Who never to himselv bath said, "This is my own, my Middletown."
